"Half a Loaf of Kung-Fu"

A FABLE OF CONTENTS.....

Cover This issue's cover is a parody of the cover to this year's orientation handbook, if you didn't catch the reference. It was designed by Mac and Randy.

2 Editorial This month's editorial was guest written by the editor's mother, who would probably rather have her son spend more time on his homework and less time writing this table of contents page.

The Guide To Worcester
It's your new home, make the most of it with the help from your friends at WheatBread:

3 Introduction By Walter Crockett, Clark '69. Walter is the Editor of Worcester Magazine.

4 The Guide To Worcester by David Bernstein, Zack Ordynans, Korey Darling, Mandy Reyna, Mollie Wittstein, and Randi Beckman. The scoop on what to eat, where to shop, and what to do in the city that the Icecats call home from.

8 Fresh In Worcester was contributed by Tom Roy and Elsa Berendes, who both grew up in Worcester.

9 Linguist's Guide by Randy Mack with Jeremy Sarna, Cindy Corliss, Mollie Wittstein, and Aidan Reynolds.

11 Package Stores by David Bernstein is a guide to the liquor stores in the Clark neighborhood.

12 Erikson's Stages of College Life was written by Randy Mack ('97), who claims no real knowledge of Erikson, except that discovering Greenland isn't exactly the discovery of a lifetime.

14 Package Tours was written by Zack Ordynans, Randy Mack and Jason Siderman, a few people who saw too many concerts this past summer.

18 Weird Like Me was written by Nicole Imbracsio, herself one of the "freaks" that this campus seems to be full of (not that that's bad).

19 Your College Career Forecast was written by Mandy Reyna. She's a senior so she's been there, and now she's gonna let you in on the secret of your next four years.

20 A Guide to Spinoza by Mollie Wittstein with Randy Mack and Aidan Reynolds is about some pet that was the subject of a book, T-shirt, and RLH manhunt (cathunt?) last year. The cat in question is now in exile on Highland St.

23 The Wall of Disillusionment by Macneil "Mac" Shonle, Randolph "Randy" Mack and William

"Bill" Evans was written with the optimistic expectation that you'll post the thing on your wall and read it every day. More likely, you'll accidentally glance at it while using this issue of WB to swat a fly—and that's okay too.

24 Dr. Null's Bag O Notes is just what it claims to be: the first installment of a regular column by a Clark Professor who would prefer to remain anonymous. If you have questions for Dr. Null's next column, send them in. If we don't receive anything, we'll just have to make up the questions ourselves, and it won't be pretty.

Relationships Suck by Heather Sims is also a new advice column. Heather has been Clark's reigning "Vax-Bitch" for longer than anyone can remember, and now she'd like to tell you all about it. •
